Mark Hertling political party has become a topic of interest as he has emerged as a significant figure in the political landscape of the United States. With a background as a retired Major General in the U.S. Army, Hertling has transitioned from military service to engaging in political discourse, aiming to influence the direction of policy and governance. This article will delve into Hertling's political affiliation, his perspectives, and the impact he hopes to have on his community and the nation at large.

Background of Mark Hertling

Mark Hertling was born and raised in the United States, where he developed a strong sense of duty and service from a young age. He graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and went on to have a distinguished career in the Army, serving in various capacities over more than three decades. Hertling's military experiences, including leadership roles during the Iraq War, shaped his views on national security, governance, and civic responsibility.

As a retired Major General, Hertling brings a wealth of experience in leadership, crisis management, and strategic planning—all of which are valuable assets in the political arena. Following his retirement, he became a prominent voice in discussions around military and veteran affairs, education, and governance.

Political Affiliation

Mark Hertling is affiliated with the Republican Party. His alignment with this political party is reflective of his conservative values, particularly regarding fiscal responsibility, national security, and individual liberties. Throughout his political journey, Hertling has emphasized the importance of strong leadership, transparency in governance, and a commitment to public service.

Core Values and Beliefs

Hertling's political stance can be encapsulated through several core values:

1. National Security: Having served in the military, Hertling places a high priority on national defense. He advocates for a robust military that is well-equipped to handle both current threats and future challenges.
2. Veterans' Affairs: Hertling is a staunch advocate for veterans, emphasizing the need for improved healthcare, education, and job opportunities for those who have served in the military.

3. Education Reform: With a belief that education is a cornerstone of democracy, Hertling supports policies that enhance the quality of education, increase access to resources, and promote accountability within school systems.
4. Economic Growth: Hertling endorses policies that encourage economic growth through entrepreneurship, innovation, and responsible fiscal management. He believes in reducing unnecessary regulations to foster a business-friendly environment.
5. Civic Engagement: Hertling encourages citizens to participate in the democratic process, emphasizing the importance of informed voting and community involvement.

Political Campaigns and Elections
