Delightful Poems about Snow for Children

Here are some charming poems about snow that children will adore. These pieces capture the essence of winter and encourage kids to explore their surroundings.

1. Snowflakes

Snowflakes falling from the sky,
Dancing gently, oh so high.
Each one unique, a work of art,
Whispers secrets as they part.

They twirl and spin, they glide and sway,
A winter wonderland at play.
Catch them softly on your tongue,
Sing a carol, hum a song.

2. The Snowman's Wish

In the yard, a snowman stands,
With a carrot nose and stick for hands.
He dreams of sun, of warmth and light,
But loves the magic of the snowy night.

"Oh, children, come and play with me,
Let's roll and tumble, wild and free!
We'll build a fort, we'll have some fun,
Under the snow, we'll laugh and run!"

3. A Winter's Day

The world is wrapped in a blanket white,
Snowflakes twinkle, pure and bright.
Hot cocoa waits, the fireplace glows,
A perfect day for friends and snow.

With mittens on and boots so tall,
We'll sled down hills, we'll have a ball!
Snowball fights and snow angels too,
Winter's magic is waiting for you!
