Understanding Proper Nouns in First Grade

Proper noun worksheets for first grade introduce students to the concept of proper nouns, which are names used to identify specific people, places, or things. Unlike common nouns, proper nouns always begin with a capital letter. Teaching this distinction early is crucial because it helps children develop correct writing habits and improves their reading comprehension. First graders learn to recognize names like “Sarah,” “New York,” and “Monday,” which refer to particular entities rather than general items.

- Places: Chicago, Central Park

- Days and months: Friday, April
- Brand names: Nike, McDonald's
- Special events or holidays: Christmas, Halloween
